

Tables

2.1	Descriptive data on persistence of village social hierarchies	page 65
3.1	Administrative hierarchies over time	81
4.1	Descriptive statistics for local elite survey respondents, by department	100
4.2	Odds ratios of perceived inequality in the local council	124
5.1	Descriptive statistics of large-N dataset	136
6.1	Description of case selection	158
6.2	Descriptive statistics for case study interviewees	159
8.1	Decentralization in West African countries surveyed in Afrobarometer Round 6	221
8.2	West Africa's precolonial states in the nineteenth century	226
A.1	Additional descriptive statistics	254
A.2	Effect of institutional congruence on village access to new social services (Figure 5.2)	256
A.3	Effect of institutional congruence on village access to new social services, increased buffer size	258
A.4	Effect of institutional congruence on village access to new social services, reduced measure of access	260
A.5a	Effect of alternative explanations on village access to new primary schools, odds ratios (Figure 5.3a and b)	262
A.5b	Effect of alternative explanations on village access to new clinics, odds ratios (Figure 5.3c)	264
A.6	Trust estimates (Figure 5.4)	265
A.7	Effect of institutional congruence on location-allocation choices (Figure 5.6)	267
A.8	Placebo models – effect of institutional congruence on central state allocated goods, odds ratios (Figure 5.7)	268

